Ford Says the Political Campaign is Over; the Campaign for the People must also be Fast-Paced

CHICAGO – With the recent elections over, State Representative La Shawn K. Ford (D-Chicago) congratulates all who performed their civic duty to elect office holders, and urges a renewed focus on the many problems confronting Illinois' families. "I would like to thank the voters who participated in this election and granted me another opportunity to serve in the General Assembly. With the election campaign behind us, we must continue the campaign for the people with the same passion and urgency that election campaigns take on," said Ford.

"We look forward to the final outcome in the Governor's race so that we all can be fully engaged to put Illinois on the road to recovery. The problems we face are non-partisan, including unemployment, education issues, unfunded pensions, foreclosures, the state's growing budget deficit and other challenges, and we must roll up our sleeves and work together tirelessly to address these problems," said Ford.
